BENGAL SECRETARIAT LIBRARY

No. 855 of 1894.

From

F. S. BULLOCK, Esq., C.S.,

Judicial Commissioner,

Hyderabad Assigned Districts,

To

The SECRETARY for BERAR to the RESIDENT,

Hyderabad.

Dated Amraoti, the 7th May 1894.

Sir,

Annual report on criminal justice submitted.

I have the honor to submit my annual report on the administration of criminal justice in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for the year 1893, together with the report of the Civil and Sessions Judge and those of the District Magistrates. A supplementary chapter is added dealing with the work done by the Cantonment Magistrates in the military stations of Aurangabad, Jalna, Hingoli and Mominabad.

Tribunals.

2. The following table shows the number of Magistrates of each class in each district at the close of the year 1893. The total number is 72 as compared with 76 in 1892.

Messrs. Horsbrugh, Mauduit and Haig having passed by the higher standard received their enhanced powers as Magistrates of the 1st class towards the close of the year. Mr. Aziz-ud-Din was absent from the province on special duty; Mr. Bapat was on furlough, and Mr. Ajudhia Pershad died during the year. The Special Magistrate of Malkapur was absent on leave. It will be seen the total strength of the Magistracy was below that of 1892 by one 1st class and three 2nd class Magistrates. The above facts taken in connection with the leave exigencies account for the fluctuations, but they leave the available strength of the Magistracy weaker by four officers, three of whom were 2nd class Magistrates; and it must be noted also that some of the 1st class Magistrates have had less experience and knowledge, facts which must be taken into consideration later on in dealing with the results of trials.

PART I.—ORIGINAL JURISDICTION.

A.—General review of offences committed and brought to trial.

Number of offences reported, admitted to have occurred, and brought to trial.

3. The following table compares the number of offences reported, the number struck off and accepted as true, and the number actually brought to trial in the past two years :—

Remarks on the decrease of reported crime.

4. The total number of reported offences is 17,616 as compared with 19,137 showing a decrease of 8·6 per cent., and the lowest figure that has been reported in the past five years.

Taken by districts we find the following results :—

Akola	..	...	...	— 430
Basim	..	...	...	— 299
Amraoti	...	...	...	— 579
Wun	...	...	...	— 539	=	— 1,847
Buldana	...	...	...	+ 174
Ellichpur	...	...	..	+ 152	=	+ 326
			Net decrease			1,521

The past year has been below the average in prosperity, and in Wun, where the percentage of decrease is largest, prices were high, and there was a certain amount of distress from failure of the crops.

Number of reported offences.
1888	...	19,629
1889	...	19,101
1890	.	18,088
1891	...	18,724
1892	...	19,137
1893	...	17,616

I think there is some ground for believing that the falling-off in crime is due to improved supervision by the Police and Magistracy, and especially to the increased attention to surveillance of bad characters. At any rate the result is a satisfactory and marked diminution of crime as marginally* shown.

Cases summarily dismissed.

5. The number of cases summarily dismissed under section 203 has fallen by 498 cases; every district except Akola shows a falling-off. The remarks made in last year's report have not been without effect. In Ellichpur, where I found reason to suspect that there had been a want of discretion in regard to dismissals, there is a very marked difference in the percentage of dismissals, which has fallen from 25·3 to 12·1.

District figures regarding summary dismissals.

6. In Akola the percentage of dismissals has risen and is decidedly high (21·8). Mr. Hare, the District Magistrate, has reported that he examined a large number, 12 per cent., of these cases, and it would appear that there is reason to suppose that sufficient care is not taken to examine complainants in some courts, notably in that of Mr. Deorao Jaikrishna at Telhara. I am inclined also to think from some cases that I have seen that Captain Morris was a little too summary in his procedure in this respect.

In Amraoti the Magistrates last year were not very experienced, and the percentage is a little high, but Mr. Nicholetts thinks on examination that as a rule no miscarriage of justice resulted.

The following percentages as compared with last year show a general improvement:—

Districts.				1892.	1893.
Akola	...	...	...	16·3	21·8
Buldana	...	...	...	13·6	9·4
Basim	...	...	...	11·1	10·9
Amraoti	...	...	...	18·6	16·5
Ellichpur	...	...	...	25·3	12·1
Wun	...	...	...	7·1	5·9
		Average	...	15·2	12·9

In the Wun district the percentage is as low as 5·9 per cent.

Cases struck off.

7. The number of cases struck off as false has fallen to 641 from 964 which shows that due care is exercised in examining reports and enquiries.

Offences returned as true.

8. The balance of cases returned as true is 14,487, as compared with 15,187 in 1892; and the number of cases brought to trial was 11,707 as compared with 1 ,292. These results show a decided improvement in the work of the Magistracy and the Police, inasmuch as out of a total reported crime roll of 19,137 cases in 1892, 12,292 were only brought to trial, while in 1893 out of 17,616 reported cases 11,707 came up for disposal.

B.—Classification of offences.

9. The subjoined table abstracted from Judicial Statement No. 2 compares the various classes of offences returned as true during 1892 and 1893:—

The most noticeable column is column 18, showing that only two classes exhibit an increase and of these one, viz :—

False evidence and offences against public justice.

False evidence and offences against public justice, is especially that class of offence which requires to be brought to trial by the Magistrate's own action, and its successful prosecution tends to the diminution of other crime.

Offences against public tranquillity.

10. Taken by districts, the following points deserve to be remarked :—

The decrease in the number of cases against public tranquillity, showing a falling off of 59 cases, following as it does a decrease of 30 cases in 1891. The chief improvement is in Akola, and is due without doubt to Captain Morris' prompt measures in dealing with certain religious disputes, which he disposed of effectually for the time, and it is hoped that the enquiries now being made by his successor will bring about a satisfactory settlement of them.

Contempt of lawful authority.

A further improvement following on that of 1891 is shown in offences of contempt against the lawful authority of servants.

Offences affecting the public health. &c.

A large falling-off in Basim in offences affecting the public health and safety. This is no doubt due to certain orders against the illegal exercise of jurisdiction in this matter by Tahsildar Magistrates in 1892.

Offences affecting the human body.

There is a slight but scarcely sufficient falling-off in the class of offences affecting the human body, which last year showed a considerable rise. The falling-off is pretty general, except in the Ellichpur district, where the increase is more than 60 per cent. In Buldana there is a slight increase, but not such as to call for remark. No explanation is given of the great rise in Ellichpur, and there are signs throughout the returns that the Ellichpur district requires a firmer hand than it has had over it.

Offences against property.

There is a satisfactory improvement in offences against property in Amraoti and Wun, and a falling-off in Ellichpur and Buldana.

Heinous crime.

11. The above table compares offences against person and property for the years 1892-93. It is satisfactory in that it shows a preponderating decrease.

Murders.

12. Under murders there was an increase of one case. The Amraoti district, as last year, stands first in evil repute for this crime with 12 murders out of 31 for the whole province, while Buldana comes next with 8, and 1 of the murders in this district was remarkable for its determined character. The victim Ganu, patel of Ghirni, was a well-known man of tyrannical character, and was deliberately murdered by a body of his own villagers. The case was a difficult one, as evidence could not be got that was above suspicion, with the result that the Sessions Judge had to discharge the accused on bail for a year in the hope that further evidence might be forthcoming. The majority of these cases this year as in the past are due to jealousy or robbery of ornaments.

Unnatural offences.

13. There is a considerable decrease in unnatural offences, only one case being reported.

14. In offences against property there is a considerable diminution, which is satisfactory.

Robberies and dakaitis

The decrease of 17 cases of robbery and 14 dakaitis is a sign of improved police administration.

The energetic action of the police in Basim against the two well-known gangs of dakaits has had a most beneficial effect. There was an outbreak of dakaiti at the beginning of the year in Basim and later on in the Buldana districts, which had hitherto been exempt from it. The successful detection and prosecution of the Mhasla dakaiti has probably put a stop to these serious cases. For a history of them the police report is the proper medium.

Under the proceedings tabulated in this statement for the years 1892 and 1893 the best indication of magisterial supervision is to be found, as showing the steps taken for the prevention of crime.

It is satisfactory therefore to find a distinct improvement in the figures of this table.

Security to keep the peace.

16. Under chapter VIII, steps taken to prevent breaches of the peace, there has evidently been energetic and successful action rendered necessary by disputes arising between Hindus and Mahomedans, closely following on the disturbances in Bombay. These were chiefly in the Akola district.

The figures show an increase of cases and a larger increase of persons dealt with, and it is noticeable that offences affecting the public tranquillity have fallen off in correspondence with these proceedings.

Security for good behaviour.

17. In regard to procedure to take security for good behaviour, the provincial return shows a decided improvement, which would, however, have been still greater if all the District Magistrates had taken up the matter with equal earnestness and discretion.

The following figures contrast the resort to the powers given under sections 107—110 of the Criminal Procedure Code in each district in 1892 and 1893 :—

Districts.	1892		1893.
	Disposed of	Convicted	Disposed of	Convicted.
Akola	15	10	24	15
Buldana	3	2	21	16
Basim	27	25	20	11
Amraoti	16	12	50	42
Ellichpur	4	3	8	1
Wun	1	1	19	17

Remarks on working in districts under Chapter VIII.

18. In Basim the Deputy Commissioner admits that the result is not very satisfactory, but he attributes it to the defective information given by the police of Pusad. But in Ellichpur, not only was there an absolute failure, but to judge from Mr. Biddulph's report and quotation from Captain Hastings' order in one of the few cases disposed of by him, neither he nor his District Superintendent of Police seem to have any knowledge of the bad characters of the district, nor do they know how they should be dealt with. I have examined the cases of this district and regret to find that they have not been taken up with any care, and I much doubt if Captain Hastings realizes the importance of keeping down crime by prevention. In the case in which he remarks that " if a person accused under section 109, Criminal Procedure Code, can show that he has ostensible means of living, the case against him must fall to the ground," the accused were proceeded against as bad characters under section 110 as well as section 109, and had previous convictions recorded against them, and yet the only question put them was "How do you get your livelihood." In these cases the police proceed on general reputation and known bad character, and it is for the accused to show cause why they should not be ordered to give security. But the attitude taken by the Deputy Commissioner towards bad characters is rather, it seems to me, one of protection. If we may judge by the results of his administration, criminals have found a distinct incentive to their vocation. Ellichpur figures in every respect badly in the returns. Crime of all kinds has increased more than in any other district, while preventive measures are conspicuous by their absence.

Amraoti, on the other hand, so long notorious for increasing crime, has shown a great improvement, and the measures taken under the preventive sections are noticeably stringent. Mr. Nicholetts has worked his powers under section 110 and 109 and 107 systematically, and though he has had difficulties to contend with, and has perhaps made a few mistakes, the result of his action has made itself apparent in the returns.

The measures taken in Buldana and Akola were called for urgently, and it is to be hoped that they will soon make themselves felt.

It is noteworthy that the two districts which showed last year a weakness in preventive measures are conspicuous this year for a rise in their reported crime.

Public nuisances.

19. Proceedings to prevent public nuisances fell off in number, and convictions were low. The large number of pending cases is remarkable; the majority are in the Basim district. The fact is that these cases are chiefly dealt with during the cold weather tour, and the proceedings are of a spasmodic nature when cases come to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner himself. A good many of the cases have been called up for inspection, and I am inclined to think many of the prosecutions were ill-judged, but it is difficult to decide without local knowledge of the circumstances.

20. It is satisfactory to see frivolous and vexatious complaints show signs of falling-off. A few well-judged fines under section 250 of Criminal Procedure Code do much to put a stop to these.

Frivolous complaints.

D.—Result of trials.

21. The following table compares the number of persons under trial including pending from 1892, the number of persons disposed of, and the number pending in 1892 and 1893 :—

22. There were 21,623 persons whose cases came up for disposal, of whom 21,247 or 98·2 per cent. were tried, leaving only 376 pending at the close of the year.

Persons brought to trial.

23. The percentage of acquittals has again risen from 54 8 to 57·9. Only two districts Basim and Wun show a percentage of less than 50 per cent. of acquittals, while Akola rises to 67·9 per cent.

Acquittals.

24. It follows that convictions have fallen off by nearly 2 per cent. Akola is again this year lowest in this respect, and Ellichpur has fallen from 54 per cent. to 33·6. Every district except Wun, which shows a slight increase, has fallen off in percentage of convictions It is impossible to account for this tendency, except by attributing it to the increasing strength of the Bar or the weakness of the Magistracy. There is no doubt that there is a great want of experienced Magistrates in Berar. The Assistant Commissioners are, almost without exception, young and unused to the methods of native witnesses, and a good many of the Extra Assistant Commissioners are also new to the work. In this fact lies some hope for the future, as time will remove the cause. I am inclined to think that the strength of the Bar is felt to be very great by the majority of our young officers.

Comments on the proportion of convictions in districts.

The reasons given by the Magistrates in their reports are insufficient to explain the gradual fall in convictions shown in the following table :—

Distribution between the several classes of Courts.

25. The following statement shows in detail how the work has been distributed among the several District Courts for the last two years :—

Total ...	11,419	12,001	100	100

Cases disposed of by Magistrates of districts.

26. The number of cases tried by Deputy Commissioners has been 426 or 177 in excess of the number tried by them in 1892. The percentage has also increased from 2·5 to 3·7. Further particulars of the work done by Deputy Commissioners will be found in the next table.

Work performed by Assistant Commissioners.

27. The proportion of disposals by Assistant Commissioners has risen from 5·1 in 1892 to 9·2 in 1893. The increase is in some measure due to a larger share of criminal work having been allotted to this class of officers in some of the districts in accordance with paragraph 4 of the Resident's review of the Criminal Report for 1892.

Work done by Tahsildars.

28. In the work done by Tahsildars there is an increase of 2 6 per cent., which is in my opinion a regrettable fact.

The decrease in the proportion of work performed by Special Magistrates is attributed to the absence of some of them on leave for short periods, and hence their work was given to Tahsildars, which has increased the percentage of cases disposed of by these Magistrates.

Remarks on distribution of work.

29. But I am inclined to think that we should get better results in our criminal administration if less of it was entrusted to Tahsildar Magistrates. It will be seen that nearly 50 per cent. of the criminal work is done by Tahsildars and 20 per cent. by Special Magistrates.

Last year I had not had much opportunity of forming an opinion on the subject. It came on me somewhat as a surprise to see how little of the criminal work was done by 1st class Magistrates, and how large a percentage fell upon the Tahsildars. I have now been able to direct my attention more to this point, and I am not altogether satisfied with what I have seen of the work of Tahsildars as Magistrates. I think they ought not to be entrusted with cases of house-breaking, cases in which public servants are accused, and cases of theft and dishonest receiving in which the stolen property is valued at upwards of Rs 50 or at most 100.

30. I think we should find our percentage of convictions show a considerable increase if this could be done.

I am aware that this will throw more work on the Assistant Commissioners and Extra Assistant Commissioners, who already have a great deal of their time occupied with civil work, but I don't think we can expect much improvement in the matter of convictions till cases of importance are dealt with by officers less intimately associated with the witnesses and complainants, &c., than are Tahsildars in their own sub-divisions.

31. The subjoined table shows the number of cases disposed of by the Deputy Commissioners :—

Cases decided by Deputy Commissioners.

32. The number of cases disposed of by Deputy Commissioners as Magistrates of the district has been 426 as compared with 249 in 1892, and the increase has been in cases tried by regular procedure.

The Deputy Commissioner of Buldana might be expected to dispose of more cases He has again done the smallest amount of criminal case work of any Deputy Commissioner in the province, having disposed of only 30 cases, all of which were regular trials. Considering the various duties devolving on the Deputy Commissioners of Amraoti and Akola, which they cannot safely delegate to others, the number of cases disposed of by them is as much as they can be expected to do.

F.—Special jurisdiction of Magistrates.

Jurisdiction under section 30, Criminal Procedure Code.

33. The number of cases disposed of and persons tried by District Magistrates under section 30, Criminal Procedure Code, are exhibited in the following statement :—

TABLE IX.

34. During the year under report 72 cases were disposed of by Deputy Commissioners under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code, as compared with 48 in the previous year. The largest number was disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner of Basim

General result of trials.

Of the total number of persons disposed of under this section 66 or 41·2 per cent. were convicted. Of those convicted 15·1 per cent. were punished with terms of imprisonment exceeding three years, and their sentences were referred to the Sessions Judge for confirmation.

The increased use of these powers by Deputy Commissioners is very satisfactory, as it materially lessens the original work of the Civil and Sessions Judge.

Summary trials.

35. The following statement shows the number of cases disposed of and persons tried under chapter XXII of the Criminal Procedure Code :—

TABLE X.

District.	Summary jurisdiction.
	Number of cases disposed of.		Number of persons tried.
	1893	1892.	1893.	1892.

Ellichpur	58	97	188	170
Wun...	27	21	28	23
Total ...	375	436	666	609

The number of cases disposed of summarily is 61 less than last year. The fact that the decrease in crime was mainly under the head of public nuisances and assaults, accounts for the smaller proportional use of summary powers during the year.

36. Two European British subjects were tried during the year by the District Magistrates of Amraoti and Ellichpur for criminal force and assault. The trials resulted in the conviction of both the accused.

1892	242	133	55	109	45·	...	...

37. The statement shows that the original work of the Sessions Court was considerably less than in 1892, which, it must be remembered, was an abnormally heavy year.

Sessions trials

There were only 66 cases involving 168 persons for disposal as compared with 100 cases and 244 persons in 1892. Of these 60 cases involving 124 persons were disposed of.

Cases for disposal and result of trial

It is satisfactory to find that the percentage of acquittals has fallen from 55· to 31·5, while convictions have risen from 45· to 62 1 per cent. The Sessions Judge attributes this improvement to the care exercised by Magistrates to commit only good cases.

38. The number of persons disposed of from each district is given below, and is some indication of order by merit of the work done :—

District figures regarding convictions

Districts	Number of persons disposed of	Number acquitted	Number convicted	Percentage of convictions
Amraoti	35	9	26	74·3
Akola ..	23	6	17	73 0
Basim .. .	18	5	13	72 2
Buldana	32	12	20	62 5
Wun	5	2	3	60 0
Ellichpur	11	5	6	54·5

Amraoti stands first as it did last year, while Ellichpur in this as in other matters is last.

39. Trials were held with the aid of assessors except in six cases in which the accused pleaded guilty. The Judge agreed with the assessors in 44 cases, and differed from one assessor in five cases, and from both in four cases. In one case the Judge differed from three assessors and agreed with one.

Use of assessors

40. Six cases involving 44 persons remained pending at the close of the year. The reasons for this are given by the Judge and are sufficient.

Pending cases.

Trials of European British subjects.

41. There were no trials of European British subjects in the Court of Session in 1893.

Average duration.

42. The average duration of Sessions trials is 46·4 days, or 11·8 days less than in 1892.

References.

43. In addition to Sessions cases there were 12 references for confirmation under section 34 of Act X of 1882, all of which were disposed of.

Decrease in work of the Sessions Court.

44. It is a matter of congratulation that the work of the Sessions Court has decreased, and is, I hope, a sign that an improvement has set in in the criminal and police administration.

The reduced number of appeals in the Judicial Commissioner's Court and the high percentage of convictions shows, I think, that this is the case.

The exercise of their special powers under section 30 of the Criminal Procedure Code by Deputy Commissioners has no doubt materially relieved the Sessions Court.

Attendance of witnesses.

45. This is a comparative statement of the attendance of witnesses in the Criminal Courts in the years 1892 and 1893.

The total number in 1893 was 39,667, of which 38,866 attended in the District Courts and the balance 801 in the Court of Sessions.

The detention statistics show an improvement, 79·1 per cent. having been allowed to go on the 1st day, and 15·6 per cent. on the second day.

Witnesses not examined.

46. The number of witnesses allowed to go without examination was 12,113, which is rather a large proportion.

Detention of witnesses.

47. The longest detention was that of four witnesses detained eight days in Buldana, which is explained by the Deputy Commissioner satisfactorily.

In the Sessions Judge's Court also 38 witnesses were detained for more than six days, but I am quite satisfied that Mr. Obbard did not keep them longer than they were required.

PART II—PUNISHMENTS.

Details of punishments inflicted.

48. The following table gives the details of the kinds of punishments inflicted in the years 1892 and 1893 :—

Persons punished.

The total number of persons sentenced to punishments of all kinds has fallen from 9,576 to 8,258, a decrease of 1,318. This would be more satisfactory, were it not for the low proportion of convictions to acquittals, which must be taken into consideration in dealing with the question of punishments. The very small number of persons punished in Akola, only 1,445 as compared with 2,033, is the most conspicuous feature, and is attributable to the want of success in prosecutions in that district.

Capital sentences.

49. There were four capital sentences during the year; four more being sent up for confirmation at the close of the year were dealt with in January 1894, and do not therefore show in this return.

Transportation.

50. Thirty-five persons were transported for life.

Variations in different descriptions of punishments.

51. There has been a decrease of 5·6 per cent. in sentences of fine, and increases of 2· and 3·6 per cent. in those of whipping and imprisonment.

The decrease in fines is easily accounted for by the falling-off in petty cases of assault and nuisances.

The proportion of sentences of imprisonment has risen from 16·7 to 20·3 of the total, which is rather an unlooked for result, but is, I think, a good indication that punishments follow the class of crime, as the decrease of offences against property is less than that of offences against the person.

The increase of the punishment of whipping is slight, but follows the same lines.

Degrees of punishment.

52. The following table shows the degree in which the various terms of punishment were resorted to by all the Courts as compared with 1892 :—

Fines.

53. 6,070 persons were fined as compared with 7,573 in 1892, and it is evident that the fines have been for the most part of a light character, 83·6 per cent. being Rs. 10 and under, and 98·5 per cent. being below Rs. 50.

Imprisonment.

54. Imprisonments show a proportional increase, 1,678 persons being so sentenced as compared with 1,602 in 1892, and the severity showing a tendency also to increase. This is due no doubt to the fact that offences against property have been somewhat more numerous than last year, as compared with other offences.

Whipping.

55. For a similar reason whippings have increased in number and severity, 23 per cent. of the sentences of whipping being of 30 stripes, the full punishment.

Solitary confinement.

56. The punishment of solitary confinement was ordered in 304 cases. It is least resorted to in Akola and Ellichpur. As a rule I think Magistrates in Berar fully take advantage of this form of punishment. It is no doubt a very good disciplinary form of increasing the severity of sentences.

Habitual offenders.

57. In all districts the subject of dealing with habitual offenders now receives full attention. The Deputy Commissioner of Ellichpur alone makes no remark regarding their treatment, but as Captain Hastings had proceeded on leave, this is not a matter for surprise. But from the inspection of cases, I have no reason to doubt that they are dealt with with sufficient severity, and that the orders of Government as regards their transportation are observed.

Details of punishments by different Courts.

58. The following statement shows the detail of punishments by the different Courts :—

Other Magistrates ..	...	...	...	...	...	...	841
Total ..	35	...	5	52	18	8	1,595

59. This statement does not call for any particular remark. 35 persons were transported for life as compared with 36 last year. Of the persons so sentenced 5 were for murder, 13 for dakaitis, and 17 were accused persons with previous convictions dealt with under section 75, Indian Penal Code.

There is an increase of 108 in the number of persons imprisoned for terms less than two years and up to seven years against District Magistrates owing to all officers of this grade having been empowered during 1893 to dispose of cases under section 30, Criminal Procedure Code, and also to a larger number of cases having been disposed of by them under their ordinary powers.

Fines imposed and realized.

60. The following fine account is compiled from Provincial Statement No. X for the year 1893 :—

TABLE XVI.

Debtor.	Rs			Creditor.	Rs.

				Outstanding at the close of 1893.	24,375	12	5
Total ...	77,670	2	11	Total ...	77,670	2	11

61. The fines imposed during the year amounted to Rs. 53,699 in comparison with Rs. 70,762 in 1892. The largest amount was imposed in the Amraoti district and was Rs. 13,649. The balance outstanding at the end of the year was Rs. 405 in excess of the balance to be realized at the beginning of the year, but in most districts the realizations compare well with the amount imposed during the year. Buldana and Ellichpur show the smallest balance to be realized at the close of the year, the amount being Rs. 1,576 in the former and Rs. 1,344 in the latter district.

PART III—APPELLATE JURISDICTION OF THE JUDICIAL COMMISSIONER'S COURT, THE SESSIONS JUDGE, AND OF MAGISTRATES.

Appeals for disposal

62. The following statement shows the number of appeals instituted, disposed of, and pending in the Criminal Courts of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the past as compared with the preceding year :—

Decrease in number of appeals preferred

63. The total number of appeals for disposal by the various Courts was 727 as against 746 in the preceding year, a very trifling difference.

Cause of decrease.

64. There has been a falling-off in the number of appeals preferred both to the Judicial Commissioner and Magistrates of districts during the year. The decrease is sufficiently accounted for by the number of original cases during 1893 having been much smaller. The Sessions Judge is unable to account for the increase of 98 appeals in his Court, which may in some measure be due to the larger number of cases disposed of during the year by District Magistrates under their ordinary and enhanced powers.

Appeals undisposed of

65. The number of cases pending at the close of 1893 was 49 as compared with 18 in the preceding year.

The appeals in the Judicial Commissioner's Court which are pending were filed at the close of the year after the December sessions, and could not be heard before the close.

The decrease in the number of appeals in the Judicial Commissioner's Court is of course due to the great decrease in sessions cases.

Result of appeals

66. The following table shows the number of appeals for disposal and the manner in which they were disposed of :—

Summary rejections and sentences altered.

67. The total number of appeals disposed of in the Judicial Commissioner's Court was 25 as against 90 in 1892. Of these the sentences were confirmed or the appeals rejected at the first hearing in 92 per cent. as compared with 74·4 last year. Sentences were reduced or modified in 4 as compared with 12·3 per cent., and sentences were reversed in 4 per cent. as compared with 13·3 in 1892.

68. In the Sessions Court the percentage of confirmations and rejections was 67 as compared with 71·3 in 1892; the total number of appeals disposed of being 285 as compared with 202 in 1892.

69. The largest number of appeals disposed of in any district was 129 in Amraoti, and the largest percentage of rejections occurred in the Buldana district with 56 per cent.

Sentences confirmed.

70. The general percentage of sentences confirmed in the Appellate Courts of Magistrates has risen from 19·6 to 47·5, and the percentage of reversals has fallen from 37·6 to 22 4 per cent. of disposals; this is an improvement on last year. The percentage of sentences reversed was unusually high in the Court of the District Magistrate at Amraoti, and that officer has not stated why he has found it necessary to reverse 28·7 per cent. of the sentences appealed to his Court, but it is no doubt due to the fact that some of the Magistrates were very inexperienced and new to the work.

Revision business.

71. Revisional work is compared in the following table :—

Revision cases disposed of by Judicial Commissioner

72. There were 89 revision cases for disposal by the Judicial Commissioner during the year, involving 174 persons. These include applications for revision, cases referred, and cases called for by this Court for inspection. Out of 85 applications and references disposed of, 55 were rejected or confirmed, one was enhanced, 20 were modified or reversed, and 9 were returned for retrial, leaving 4 pending at the close of the year.

During the year eight sentences of death were referred to the Judicial Commissioner for confirmation. In 3 cases, involving 4 persons, the sentence was confirmed, and 3 cases with 4 persons remained pending at the close of the year.

Revision work in the Sessions Court

73. The number of revisions in the Civil and Sessions Court fell from 203 to 83 and in Magistrates from 159 to 133.

74. The following table contrasts the pending file and the average duration of appeals and revision cases in the Courts of the Judicial Commissioner, Civil and Sessions Judge, and District Magistrates :—

The pending file at the close of the year amounted to 49, being 31 appeals more than in the previous year, of which 20 remained in District Magistrates' Courts.

75. The average duration of appeals for the province has fallen from 19·1 to 16·8 days. On the whole the appeals appear to have been disposed of with promptitude.

Results satisfactory

PART IV—PROCEDURE.

76. The following statement shows the number of cases the proceedings in which were called for and inspected by the Deputy Commissioner, Civil and Sessions Judge, and the Judicial Commissioner during the years 1892 and 1893:—

77. The total number of cases called up for inspection was 668 more than the number inspected during the preceding year. Of the 3,703 cases called up for inspection, Basim, as in the previous year, contributes the largest number. The generality of officers

Supervision of subordinate Courts called for a fair number of cases from each Court. All officers seem alive to the importance of supervision, and report favorably on the procedure of the Courts subordinate to them.

Inspection work of Judicial Commissioner.

78. The practice of examining not only registers and decided cases, but also pending files was carefully kept in view when the Judicial Commissioner visited the head-quarters of districts. The working of the Courts were also looked into, and irregularities brought to the notice of the presiding officers through the Deputy Commissioners. Other cases which it was deemed desirable to inspect were also specially sent for and examined. Inspection reports too have been received from time to time from Deputy Commissioners.

Notes of inspections made by Judicial Commissioner.

79. The head-quarters of every district in the province was visited for inspection purposes by the Judicial Commissioner, and full notes of inspections were made from which the following points may be worth reproduction.

Court-houses.

80. The Deputy Commissioners' offices have all been improved and enlarged, but at Ellichpur, the new building which was urgently required, though completed, is at present not in a fit state to be taken over, owing to large cracks in the walls due to the foundations being bad. This is a serious matter because of all districts Ellichpur was most in need of improved accommodation. The extensions in the other districts are nearly completed and seem satisfactory.

Office furniture.

81. The furniture of most of the Courts is fair, but more almirahs are required for the safe custody of pending records, and generally greater attention should be given to the tidiness and cleanliness of the Courts. Every officer should make it a point to see that his Court is kept decently and the records properly disposed of.

Judicial records.

82. The district record rooms are getting too full, and this is solely due to the neglect of the rules for weeding records. Complaint is made that the establishment is insufficient, and this is no doubt true, but still more might be done during the Civil Court's vacation than has been done heretofore. All Deputy Commissioners have been asked to pay special attention to this subject.

Copying department.

83. The copying department has much improved in all districts except Amraoti, where, I regret to say, I found the rules framed last year had not been properly complied with.

Ministerial establishment

84. There was a very general complaint from all Deputy Commissioners of the insufficiency of their ministerial establishments. This complaint is well founded, and I hope during the vacation to deal with some of the most urgent cases and submit proposals for an increase of as moderate a nature as possible. But it is impossible to expect work to be done punctually and satisfactorily if the Courts are always undermanned in their subordinate establishments.

Calendar of cases.

85. The inspection of records and cases generally gave satisfactory results; perhaps more attention to the preparation of the daily calendar is required, so that cases may invariably be heard on the dates fixed for them.

Court libraries.

86. District libraries are well kept, and I am glad to be able to say that a fair number of books have been added this year owing to the Resident's liberality in sanctioning the indents I have specially forwarded.

87. The district reports have been submitted in good time, and with the comments of the Civil and Sessions Judge on each give a good history of the year's work. The following brief remarks seem called for on each.

Remarks on district reports.

88. Akola.—Captain Morris was in charge of the district till the end of October. The report was written by Mr. Hare who had been only two months in the district, and is a most careful and able report. The feature of the report is the ill success that attended prosecutions. The percentage of convictions is the lowest in the province, and the tendency of getting worse results in this respect has been continuous for some years. With reference to Mr. Obbard's remarks on the subject of nuisance cases, I think, perhaps, he has misunderstood Mr. Hare, who must have known what occurred in Basim in these cases and the orders then issued. The Deputy Commissioner's remarks on the subject of prosecutions for bad livelihood show that he is alive to the importance of careful discrimination in these cases.

89. Buldana —The report is written by Colonel Szczepanski, who knows the district well, and is a full and good report. Colonel Gunthorpe was, however, in charge of the district for eight months. The district shows an increase of crime and especially of dakaiti and murder, and the report gives a full account of some of the more important cases. One case, the Andhera murder, was the direct consequence of the negligence of the police in allowing a noted proclaimed offender named Sutwa to escape after his arrest.

I should like to see the Deputy Commissioner of Buldana take a larger share of the trial of criminal cases.

90. Basim.—The report was written by Khan Bahadur Shumsh-ud-Din Ali Khan, and is on the whole a careful and full report. He was only two months in the district. Mr. Hare held charge for ten months, and much of the success in this district is due to him. He tried a considerable number of cases. The decrease in crime is a noticeable feature, and is probably due to the measures taken to suppress dakaiti.

91. Amraoti.—The report is written by Mr. H. S. Nicholetts, who was in charge for the greater part of the year. His report is full and painstaking, and his administration has been marked by a vigorous and on the whole discreet attack on the bad characters of his district. Mr. Obbard points out that the decrease of crime is only comparative, following on an increase, but still there has been a check on crime. I think Mr. Nicholetts and his police officer deserve credit for it.

92. Ellichpur.—The report is written by Mr. C. Biddulph, who is quite new to district work and to the district. Captain Hastings left after the close of the year and had been in bad health and the district had been short of officers. To this must be attributed the ill success of the year's administration. I hope to see an improvement this year.

93. Wun.—The report is written by Mr. Elliott and is, perhaps, the best of the district reports. Mr. Elliott knows the people and his work is always thorough, and his remarks on the working of the law regarding bad characters are sound.

94. The report of Mr. Obbard on the Sessions Court work and his notes on the district reports are careful, and I have to thank him for his good work.

Report on the Sessions Court.

95. Colonel Szczepanski officiated for me for eight months from March to November, when he reverted to the Buldana District as Deputy Commissioner.

Office of Judicial Commissioner.

96. The district reports specially mention the various officers, and I have no further remarks to offer on the point, beyond expressing my satisfaction generally with the way they have done their work.

Notice of officers

Cantonment Courts in the Dominions of His Highness the Nizam.

Cantonment Courts.

97. There is no difference in the number of officers exercising magisterial powers at the close of the year. The following details show separately the working of the four courts during the year 1893.

Offences reported.

98. The subjoined table shows the number of cases reported and struck off the register of offences on the application of the police as well as the cases brought to trial during the past two years :—

Years.	Offences reported.	Offences struck off the register.	Cases brought to trial
1893 ...	107	9	98
1892 ...	138	...	138

The number of offences reported during the year is 107 as against 138 in 1892, being a decrease of 28·9 per cent.

Classification of offences.

99. The following statement abstracted from Imperial Statement No. II compares the offences in each class for the past two years :—

—	1893.	1892.	Increase.	Decrease.
Offences against the public tranquillity ...	4	2	2	...
Do. by or relating to public servants ...	1	...	1	...
Contempts of the lawful authority of public servants.	2	...	2	...
Offences relating to coin and Government stamps	1	...	1	...

Do. against property	49	38	11	...
Do. not included in the above	24	5	19	...
Do. under special and local laws ...	1	65	...	64
	89	135	30	76
	98	138	36	76
			Net decrease	40

100. The number of offences against property has increased from 38 to 49, the increase being mainly in thefts of a petty nature.

There has been a large falling-off under "special and local laws." The decrease is almost entirely in breaches of Cantonment rules.

Heinous crime.

101. The following table shows the number of serious offences against person and property in the years 1892 and 1893:—

Offences against the human body.

—	1893.	1892.	Increase	Decrease.
Attempt at murder	...	1	...	1
Kidnapping or forcible abduction	...	1	...	1
Hurt with aggravating circumstances ...	1	...	1	...

Offences against property.

Theft with aggravating circumstances ..	...	1	...	1
Other cases of theft	30	25	5	...

Result of trials

102. The total number of persons under trial during the year, including the number pending at the close of last year, was 170. They were disposed of as under :—

Died, &c.	1 or 6	per cent.
Discharged or acquitted ...	80 or 47·9	„
Convicted	85 or 50·9	„
Committed or referred	1 or ·6	„

Average duration

103. Only one case was pending at the close of the year. The average duration of cases disposed of was 4·9 days, the same as in 1892. These figures do not call for any comment.

Distribution of work.

104. The following statement shows how the work has been distributed among the several Courts for the past year :—

	Cases disposed of		Percentage
	1893.	1892.	1893	1892.
Cantonment Magistrate, Jalna and Aurangabad...	25	10	25·8	7·3
Superintendent of Police, Aurangabad ...	4	5	4·1	3 6
Do., Jalna	19	...	19 6	...
Do., Mominabad ...	30	4	30·9	2·9
Do., Hingoli	19	119	19 6	86·2
	97	138	100	100

105. The fact that the Cantonment Magistrate has this year tried 25·8 per cent. of the cases against 7·3 per cent. last year shows that he has taken up more important cases and given more time to criminal business. The percentage of work performed by the Superintendent of Police, Mominabad, has also increased.

Punishments inflicted

106. The following table gives details of the kinds of punishments inflicted by the Courts for the year 1893:—

—	Total number of persons sentenced to punishments of all kinds.	Imprisonment.		Fine.		Whipping.
		Number.	Percentage.	Number	Percentage.	uNmber.	Percentage.
	1893.	1893.	1893.	1893.	1893.	1893.	1893.

Superintendent of Police, Aurangabad.	4	4	100	...	...	...	...
Superintendent of Police, Jalna.	20	9	45	10	50	1	5
Superintendent of Police, Mominabad.	30	12	40	18	60	...	...
Superintendent of Police, Hingoli.	12	8	66·6	3	25·1	1	8·3
Total 1893	85	46	54·1	35	41 2	4	4·7
Total 1892	158	·47	29·7	109	69	2	1·3

The rise in the sentences of imprisonment and whipping is attributable to the larger number of offences against property.

Fines imposed and realized.

107. The fines imposed, realized and outstanding, and the amount of compensation awarded to complainants during the past two years are shown below :—

	1893.	1892.
	Rs.	Rs.
Imposed	1,942	786
Realized	742	732
Balance remaining at the close of 1893	1,200	54
Compensation awarded	70	55

108. The balance outstanding at the close of the year was Rs. 1,200 as against Rs. 54 at the end of 1892. This is explained by the fact that a single item of Rs 1,000 is due in Jalna. The accused was sent to jail at the close of the year, and when he completes the term of his imprisonment the fine will probably be recovered.

Attendance of witnesses.

109. The number of witnesses who attended the Courts during the year was 390. Of these 323 were discharged on the first day of their appearance, and 67 were detained for periods varying from two to four days. 361 witnesses were allowed to go unexamined. The longest detention occurred in the Hingoli Court, where 3 persons were detained for four days.

Office of Cantonment Magistrate.

110. Captain Chamier, who was Cantonment Magistrate throughout the year, died in February as already reported, and has been succeeded by Captain Colomb from Akola. Aurungabad has been fixed upon as his head-quarters.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

F. S. BULLOCK.

Judicial Commissioner, H. A. D.

The Report on the Administration of Criminal Justice in the Hyderabad Assigned Districts during the year 1893

ORDER.

Reported cases and their disposal.—The statistics dealt with in paragraphs 3 to 24 of the Report on Criminal Justice for 1893 bear out the general conclusion arrived at by the Resident in his review of the Report of the administration of the Police Department for the same year, namely, that, speaking generally, there was a falling-off in crime. To this result the improved working of the police contributed, and the Officiating Resident notes with satisfaction the opinion to this effect expressed by the Judicial Commissioner in his paragraph 4. Colonel Mackenzie concurs at the same time with Mr. Bullock's opinion that improved supervision by the magistracy was also a cause to which the falling-off in crime was due, and notes specially the good results that have followed the special attention that has been paid to the surveillance of bad characters

The total number of reported offences was 17,616, a number which is considerably less than any exhibited in these reports for the past five years. Cases summarily dismissed fell from 2,986 in 1892 to 2,488. The action taken by the Judicial Commissioner on this subject in the Ellichpur District has led to a substantial decrease in the number of cases so treated in that district (251 against 487 in 1892). The number of cases struck off as false fell from 964 to 641, and the balance of cases returned as true was 14,487, against 15,187 in the previous year.

The general decrease in crime was fairly distributed. Offences against the human body and against property varied but little in number from that reported in 1892: offences against special and local laws decreased by 319. A large increase in offences affecting the human body is noticed in the Ellichpur District: this, as the Judicial Commissioner points out, should have been explained Under heinous crime, although murders and attempts at murder (31 and 7) increased by 1 and 2 respectively, a general decrease is reported. Cases of robbery and dakaiti decreased respectively by 17 and 14. It may be mentioned here, while on this subject, that the view indicated by the Inspector-General of Police in paragraph 19 of his report, namely, that agrarian discontent has induced villagers to acquiesce in the committal of dakaitis or to regard attacks on money lenders with apathy, has not been borne out by the enquiries which so far have been made on this subject. Of 21,623 persons brought to trial in the course of the year, 12,514 were discharged and acquitted, and 7,732 convicted. The percentage of acquittals rose from 54·8 to 57·9. The percentage of convictions has fallen in every district except Wun, and is at a minimum in Akola and Ellichpur.

2. Security for good behaviour.—This special subject is dealt with in the paragraphs of the report that have been generally reviewed above. Special attention was drawn to the subject in paragraph 2 of the Resident's review on the Report on Criminal Justice for 1892, and the result of the steps taken in 1893 have been, regarded generally for the whole province, satisfactory, and have contributed to the satisfactory results which have been noticed already. The number of persons called upon to give security for keeping the peace was 257, and of those called upon to give security for their good behaviour 104, against 93 and 60 respectively in the preceding year. In Basim, the result of proceedings of this kind is stated to have been unsatisfactory: this the Officiating Resident notes and desires that the District Magistrate's attention should be drawn to the subject. The remarks contained in paragraph 18 of the Judicial Commissioner's report regarding the Ellichpur District have been read by Colonel Mackenzie with some concern. It is disappointing to learn that the Deputy Commissioner and the District Superintendent of Police (the senior District Police Officer of the Province,) have failed to control bad characters in the way that they should have done and are expected to do. The attention of Captain Hastings should be drawn to this matter on his return from furlough: laxness and inefficiency in the working of the provisions of the criminal law that deal with bad characters must lead to increased crime.

3. Disposal of work—paragraphs 25 to 36.—This subject was specially dealt with in paragraph 4 of the Resident's review for 1892. Deputy and Assistant Commissioners disposed of a larger number of cases; but the Officiating Resident does not consider that the instructions referred to have yet been sufficiently acted upon. The number of cases disposed of by the Deputy Commissioner of Buldana is, Colonel Mackenzie agrees, inadequate: it is hoped that steps to rectify this defect have been taken in 1894. Although the total number of cases disposed of (11,419) was less than that in 1892 (12,001), the number of cases disposed by Extra Assistant Commissioners increased, and those disposed of by Small Cause Judges showed but a small falling-off. Attachés disposed of considerably fewer criminal cases in 1893 than in 1892. Tahsildars again, who, under the orders referred to, were to dispose of no more than a large share in petty magisterial cases, disposed of cases numbering 5,967, a number but little less than that actually disposed of by them in 1892, and bearing a higher proportion to the total number of cases. The disposal of cases in which Government servants are concerned is now regulated by the provisions of the High Court Criminal Circular No. II. of 1894: if these are observed, no case of any importance will be disposable by Tahsildars in future. Regarding cases of theft, house-breaking and so forth, the instructions issued by the Resident in his review for 1892 should meet the case: if it is proposed to issue further detailed orders, based on those instructions, the Officiating Resident will be glad to consider them.

5. The Sessions Court—paragraphs 37 to 44 et seq.—The number of persons whose cases were disposed of in the Sessions Court fell from 242 in 1892 (an exceptionally heavy year) to 124 only. The percentage of convictions in the Court rose to 62·1. The Officiating Resident notes with special satisfaction the opinion recorded by the Sessions Judge, that this improvement is due to the care exercised by Magistrates to commit only good cases. The general results of the exercise of appellate jurisdiction throughout the province are also satisfactory. The duties of inspection appear to have been carried out with care and thoroughness. The question of the revision of ministerial establishments throughout the province, which is mentioned in paragraph 84 of the report, can be conveniently disposed of when the special officer to be appointed for the duty has submitted his report.

6. Cantonment Courts in the dominions of His Highness the Nizam—paragraphs 97 to 110.—The working of these Courts in 1893 calls for no special comment.

Notice of Officers.—The thanks of the Officiating Resident are due to Mr. Bullock and to Colonel Szczepanski, who officiated as Judicial Commissioner for eight months of the year under review, and also to Mr. Obbard, the Sessions Judge. The successful conduct in the year of the administration of criminal justice is also largely due to the attention paid by the Deputy Commissioners of the several districts to this important branch of their duties. From this praise, however, Colonel Mackenzie is constrained to except the Deputy Commissioner of the Ellichpur District for reasons which have already been given, while in one respect the criminal administration of the Buldana District was decidedly wanting in thoroughness.

(By order.)

A. L. P. TUCKER,

Secretary for Berar.
